

Kingston General Hospital Patient Experience Advisor Handbook

Thank you for your interest in partnering with Kingston General Hospital as a Patient Experience Advisor. Your patient experience (whether you were a patient yourself or a family member of a patient) could contribute a great deal to how health care is delivered at KGH. It is only from the patient's perspective that we can understand if questions and fears are being appropriately addressed, care is being tailored to specific needs, patients and families feel safe and that systems are working efficiently and effectively. This guide will give you some background information to help you decide if being a Patient Experience Advisor is right for you.

Vision

The vision of the KGH 2015 strategy is that “our patients are fully in the driver's seat, participating meaningfully in every initiative that can influence their care and service.” Your partnering with us as a Patient Experience Advisor will be the means by which this vision is realized. As recently as 2010 there was no formal mechanism to ensure the patient's perspective was being considered when Hospital wide patient care decisions were being made.

Kingston General Hospital's definition of Patient-and Family-Centred Care

Patient- and Family-Centred Care at Kingston General Hospital is healthcare based on a partnership among practitioners, patients and families (when appropriate). Its goal is to ensure decisions respect patients' needs, values and preferences. Its outcome provides patients with information, knowledge and support to participate in their care as they choose.

This definition has been condensed into the 7 word phrase:

RESPECT ME, HEAR ME, WORK WITH ME

Core principles of Patient-and Family-Centred Care

The 5 Principles of our strategy, KGH 2015 (Respect, Engagement, Accountability, Transparency and Value for Money) overlap with the 4 core principles of Patient- and Family-Centred Care:

Dignity and Respect

To actively listen and honour patient and family ideas and choices and to use patient and family knowledge, values, beliefs and cultural backgrounds to improve care planning and delivery.

This principle recognizes each patient and family as being unique. Families have different personalities, abilities, life experiences, values, beliefs, education, and religious and cultural backgrounds. Care provided should be accessible and equal for all patients and flexible so that the needs and choices of families can be met.

Information Sharing

To communicate and share complete and unbiased information with patients and families in useful ways. Patients and families receive timely, complete and accurate details so they can take part in care and decision making.

This principle recognizes the need for open honest and accessible communication between patients, their families, and health care staff. It encourages openness to talk about the bad and good experience in order to change, improve, and develop best care practices and policies. This kind of clear communication enhances the patient's and family's health care experience.

*family is determined by the patient and is not limited to blood ties.

Participation

To encourage and support patients and families in care and decision making at the level they choose.

This principle strives to empower patients and families to join in their health care journey. It maintains that when families and patients understand their options, they are empowered to be involved in their care.

Collaboration

To invite patients and family members to work together with health care staff to develop and evaluate policies and programs.

This principle acknowledges that patients and families have much to offer in ensuring safe and quality care for all. By working together patients, families and staff are strengthened by their partnership and shared knowledge. This results in the highest quality of care.

What is a Patient Experience Advisor?

A Patient Experience Advisor is a person who has had a recent experience (generally within 3 years) of being a patient or the family* member of a patient and is partnering with staff and physicians to provide direct input into policies, programs and practices which affect patient care and services.

Is there a difference between an advisor and an advocate?

Yes. An advocate is a person who pleads the cause of another. An advisor is a person who partners with staff by bringing their experience of what it is like to be a patient to a decision making table. An advisor looks at the big picture through the lens of their experience.

Role of the Patient Experience Advisor

- To partner with staff to ensure patient and family centered care is provided in a fully accessible environment that promotes healing, ensures dignity and instills trust.
- To keep the patient and family as the focal point of our health system.
- To be viewed as a positive reinforcement of the patient family centered care concept.
- To build partnerships with health care professionals based on mutual respect and open communication.
- To participate in facility design, quality improvement and program development
- To support the hospital and clinics in their process improvement projects

Characteristics of a Successful Advisor

- Respectful of others and their perspectives
- Comfortable speaking in a group and interacting with others
- Good listener
- Able to use their personal experience constructively
- Able to see beyond their own experience
- Able to see the big picture
- Non- judgmental
- Positive attitude
- Ability to work collaboratively with other families and healthcare providers
- Desire to expand their knowledge and skills
- Desire to participate in bringing about meaningful change
- Able to maintain confidentiality of patient and organizational information

Responsibilities of a Patient Experience Advisor

- Advisors are accountable to the Lead for Patient- and Family-Centred Care.
- Advisors must adhere to KGH Policies including, but not limited to: Code of Behaviour, Scent Free Environment and Infection Control (KGH is a latex and smoke free environment.)
- Advisors are responsible to prepare for meetings by familiarizing themselves with materials sent out prior to each meeting.
- Advisors are responsible for attending meetings.
- Advisors must not discuss confidential information outside Council/committee meetings.

What you can expect as a Patient Experience Advisor

- Advisors will have the opportunity to assist with hospital events and participate on hospital committees.
- Advisors will receive orientation to their committee.
- Accessible meeting rooms are available.
- Advisors will be full members of the committees on which they sit.
- Advisors will have opportunities for education around Patient- and Family-Centred Care.
- A rewarding experience and the knowledge you are making a positive difference in how healthcare is delivered at KGH.
- Meetings may be held throughout the day with some starting as early as 7 a.m. and others as late as 6 p.m. Most meetings occur sometime in between. Many meetings are held regularly (i.e. once per-month). Some committees will function intensely over a short period of time (i.e. once per-week for a month). It all depends on the council or committee (if any) in which you choose to participate.
- Over the years healthcare has developed its own language. You can expect to have abbreviations, acronyms and terms clearly defined/explained. Don't be afraid to ask for clarification when something is unclear.
- Organizational information and a list of Program Councils and Long Term Committees with Patient Experience Advisor membership are available on the KGH website www.KGH.on.ca (look for the About KGH tab and then the Patient- and Family Advisory Council tab).

Quotes from Advisors

“At first, when I was asked to be a Patient Experience Advisor, I was skeptical about patients really being “heard”. Through my experience, I am no longer a skeptic.”

“Being a patient advisor has been a great experience. I feel like I have been able to make a positive difference in the lives of many people, by bridging the gap between patients and the hospital. It has been a great opportunity to work with many amazing and inspiring people. Most of all I hope to continue to make an impact on the lives of patients and their families through their cancer journey.”

“We’ve discussed topics so close to my heart that I’ve often been moved to tears. It amazes me that even the smallest, most personal details are being considered for us, the patient.”

“There is satisfaction in making something positive of my difficult health journey. And in making life better, not only for myself but for other patients too.”

“I like that we are able to choose from numerous opportunities in order to participate in initiatives that are suited to our individual interests and availability.”
