HIGHLIGHTS

• As of December 31, 2012, there were 4,494 ALC patients on the waitlist in total post-acute care settings in Ontario. This translates to 0.7% more patients on the waitlist compared to one year ago.

• 60% of ALC patients are currently waiting in acute care beds.

• Minimal improvements have been seen in the past year and a half in terms of reducing ALC in Ontario.

• Wait times appear to be affected by older age and having SNS.

QUESTION: Who are the current ALC long-waiters (Wait Time ≥ 30 Days)?

• As of December 31, 2012, 1,347 cases (7%) had been waiting 32 days or longer; (28%) waiting at least a year.

• The majority (74%) of long waiters in post-acute care were waiting for Long-Term Care, followed by Supervised or Assisted Living (15%).

• 57% of long waiters in post-acute care had at least 1 SNS requirement.

• As of December 31, 2012, 53% cases (26%) had been waiting 32 days or longer; (26%) waiting at least a year.

• The majority (67%) of long waiters in acute care were waiting for Long-Term Care, followed by Complex Continuing Care (7%).

• 40% of long waiters in acute care had at least 1 SNS requirement.

• As of December 31, 2012, 1,247 cases (78%) had been waiting 30 days or longer; (18%) waiting at least a year.

• As of December 31, 2011, 1,247 cases (78%) had been waiting 30 days or longer; (2%) waiting at least a year.

• The majority (65%) of long waiters in post-acute care were waiting for Long-Term Care, followed by Supervised or Assisted Living (15%).

• 57% of long waiters in post-acute care had at least 1 SNS requirement.

HIGHLIGHTS

• As of December 31, 2012, there were 4,494 ALC patients on the waitlist in total post-acute care settings in Ontario. This translates to 0.7% more patients on the waitlist compared to one year ago.

• 60% of ALC patients are currently waiting in acute care beds.

• Minimal improvements have been seen in the past year and a half in terms of reducing ALC in Ontario.

• Wait times appear to be affected by older age and having SNS.

QUESTION: Who are the patients currently designated ALC in Ontario? A More In-depth Understanding of ALC in Ontario

• The majority (74%) of long waiters in post-acute care were waiting for Long-Term Care, this represents an improvement of 0.2% compared to December 2011.

• By Regional services, ALC patients were occupying approximately 10% of acute care beds, 23% of OCC beds, 11% of mental health beds, and 5% of rehab beds.

• As of December 31, 2012, there were 4,494 ALC patients on the waitlist in total post-acute care settings in Ontario. This translates to 0.7% more patients on the waitlist compared to one year ago.

• 60% of ALC patients are currently waiting in acute care beds.

• Minimal improvements have been seen in the past year and a half in terms of reducing ALC in Ontario.

• Wait times appear to be affected by older age and having SNS.

How long have they been waiting?

ACUTE CARE

POST-ACUTE CARE

HIGHLIGHTS

• For ALC patients waiting in acute care beds, the wait for a Long-Term Care bed has been steadily increasing since July 2011 (99th pctl: 225 vs. 166 days; Median: 65 vs. 37 days) - Dec 12 vs. Dec 11.

• Minimal improvements have been seen in the past year and a half in terms of reducing ALC in Ontario.

• Wait times appear to be affected by older age and having SNS.

How long have they been waiting?

• As of December 31, 2012, 1,247 cases (78%) had been waiting 30 days or longer; (26%) waiting at least a year.

• The majority (65%) of long waiters in post-acute care were waiting for Long-Term Care, followed by Supervised or Assisted Living (15%).

• 57% of long waiters in post-acute care had at least 1 SNS requirement.

• As of December 31, 2012, 53% cases (26%) had been waiting 32 days or longer; (26%) waiting at least a year.

• The majority (67%) of long waiters in acute care were waiting for Long-Term Care, followed by Complex Continuing Care (7%).

• 40% of long waiters in acute care had at least 1 SNS requirement.

• As of December 31, 2012, 1,247 cases (78%) had been waiting 30 days or longer; (26%) waiting at least a year.

• The majority (65%) of long waiters in post-acute care were waiting for Long-Term Care, followed by Supervised or Assisted Living (15%).

• 57% of long waiters in post-acute care had at least 1 SNS requirement.

• As of December 31, 2012, 1,247 cases (78%) had been waiting 30 days or longer; (2%) waiting at least a year.

• As of December 31, 2011, 1,247 cases (78%) had been waiting 30 days or longer; (2%) waiting at least a year.

• The majority (65%) of long waiters in post-acute care were waiting for Long-Term Care, followed by Supervised or Assisted Living (15%).

• 57% of long waiters in post-acute care had at least 1 SNS requirement.

QUESTION: Who are the current ALC long-waiters (Wait Time ≥ 30 Days)?

For ALC patients waiting in acute care beds, the wait for a Long-Term Care bed has been steadily increasing since July 2011 (99th pctl: 225 vs. 166 days; Median: 65 vs. 37 days) - Dec 12 vs. Dec 11.

Minimal improvements have been seen in the past year and a half in terms of reducing ALC in Ontario.

Wait times appear to be affected by older age and having SNS.

HIGHLIGHTS

• For ALC patients waiting in acute care beds, the wait for a Long-Term Care bed has been steadily increasing since July 2011 (99th pctl: 225 vs. 166 days; Median: 65 vs. 37 days) - Dec 12 vs. Dec 11.

• Minimal improvements have been seen in the past year and a half in terms of reducing ALC in Ontario.

• Wait times appear to be affected by older age and having SNS.

HIGHLIGHTS

• For ALC patients waiting in acute care beds, the wait for a Long-Term Care bed has been steadily increasing since July 2011 (99th pctl: 225 vs. 166 days; Median: 65 vs. 37 days) - Dec 12 vs. Dec 11.

• Minimal improvements have been seen in the past year and a half in terms of reducing ALC in Ontario.

• Wait times appear to be affected by older age and having SNS.

QUESTION: Who are the current ALC long-waiters (Wait Time ≥ 30 Days)?

• As of December 31, 2012, 1,247 cases (78%) had been waiting 30 days or longer; (26%) waiting at least a year.

• The majority (65%) of long waiters in post-acute care were waiting for Long-Term Care, followed by Supervised or Assisted Living (15%).

• 57% of long waiters in post-acute care had at least 1 SNS requirement.

• As of December 31, 2012, 53% cases (26%) had been waiting 32 days or longer; (26%) waiting at least a year.

• The majority (67%) of long waiters in acute care were waiting for Long-Term Care, followed by Complex Continuing Care (7%).

• 40% of long waiters in acute care had at least 1 SNS requirement.

• As of December 31, 2012, 1,247 cases (78%) had been waiting 30 days or longer; (26%) waiting at least a year.

• The majority (65%) of long waiters in post-acute care were waiting for Long-Term Care, followed by Supervised or Assisted Living (15%).

• 57% of long waiters in post-acute care had at least 1 SNS requirement.

• As of December 31, 2012, 1,247 cases (78%) had been waiting 30 days or longer; (26%) waiting at least a year.

• The majority (65%) of long waiters in post-acute care were waiting for Long-Term Care, followed by Supervised or Assisted Living (15%).

• 57% of long waiters in post-acute care had at least 1 SNS requirement.